

MSKMUN 2024: DAY 2

The latest updates

The second day of MSKMUN has come to an end. A day full of fun activities, more debating and juicy highlights.

Highlight of the day: Chair Dimitris Vezirtzyan's birthday.

The formalities of the conference were left behind for a little bit when the Chairs' Team, as well as the GA and the Executives surprised their fellow chair.

In these beautiful moments, everyone remembers that MSKMUN is not just a conference. It is an initiative between people that share a common feeling of solidarity. In times like this, the MSKMUN team is reminded about what unites them and the fact that they are friends, above everything else. Chair Vezirtzyan, we in the Press Team wish you a happy birthday!

Yeah you guessed it. That was the moment of the surprise. Secretary General Iosif Iakovidis is still looking around for the badges that were lost yesterday.

Meet GA President Konstantinos Tigkas: A master at multitasking and "food jenga"

Another MSKMUN initiative: "Food Jenga"

(and yes, as of today it is a real thing)

Whenever the delegates and the Chairs are in their respective committees, discussing international problems and trying to find a solution, the GA and the Executives are obliged to complete some of the most difficult tasks known to mankind.

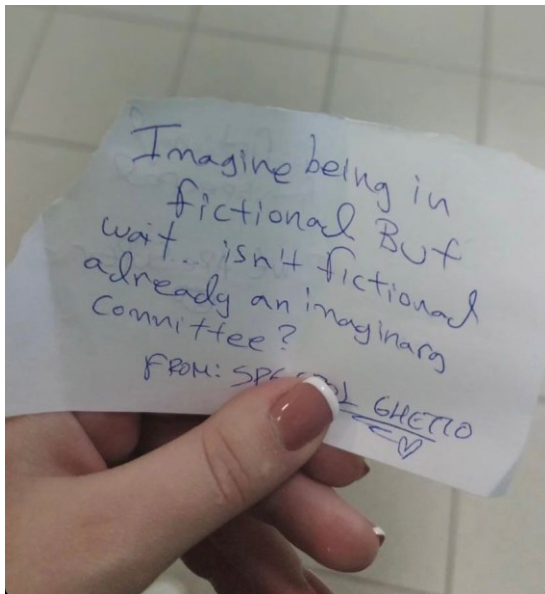

One of this tasks is stacking food and snacks. Just look at the face of our GA President. The precision that is needed at the time... the ability to remain calm and not let your anxiety take over... the strategy behind every move... "food jenga" is no laughing matter...really!

Ms. Karra as well as Executives Anna Ioannou and Dimitris Thanos have approved yesterday's newspaper. Follow their example. What are you doing? Go read it!

“Beef” between the committees

SPECPOL GHETTO launches the first strike

Our sources have confirmed that an “inner-conference beef” has begun. The two main players are the SPECPOL and the Fictional Committee. Everything started when the so called “SPECPOL GHETTO” send a scandalous note to the Fictional Committee, causing an identity crisis. No official statements have been made by the GA or the Executives regarding this matter.

This occurrence raises a lot of new questions:

- Which side will the rest of the Committees choose to support?
- Who ordered this action?
- Is the Fictional Committee even real?

Since we don't have the budget to call CNN and BBC News, you are stuck with our newspaper for the answers in these important questions. We will be monitoring the situation and inform you!

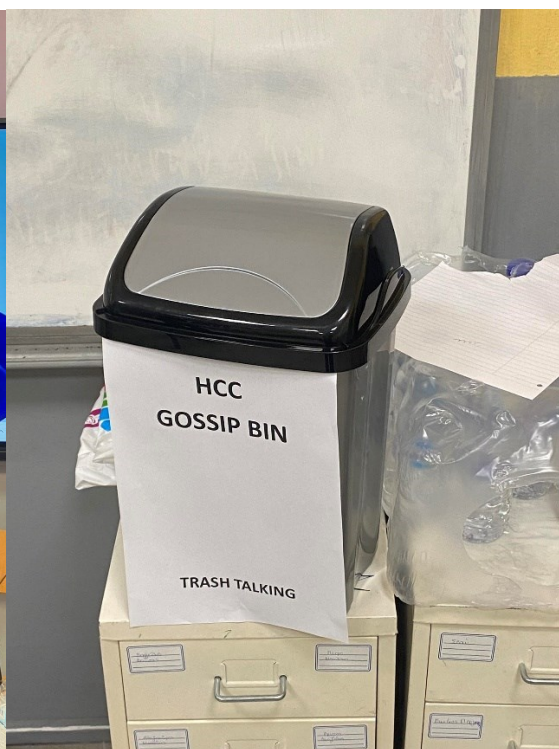

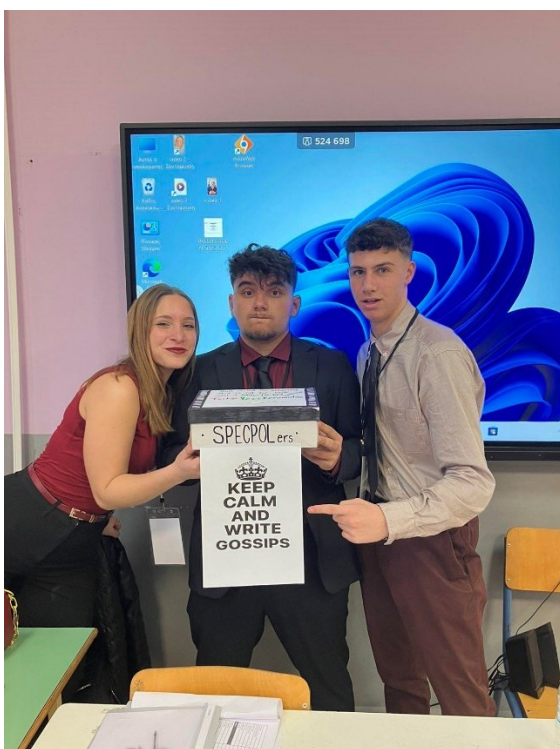

POV: You can't use your phone during the debate and your chairs find an alternative for Instagram.
Cons: You cannot scroll

Pros: Creativity is over the roof!!!

Most conferences, as well as ours, follow a strict dress code.

Usually, every delegate and official wears a suit or a formal dress.

As you can see in the photo above, everyone follows this rule as they are obliged. No one falls short of what we expect. All participants wear suit and tie at all times...indeed everyone is on the same path here.

GOSSIP BOXES

“The voice of the people”!

Do not forget to add comments, philosophical questions, shower thoughts, fashion opinion, weather predictions and whatever comes in your minds in the Gossip Box of your committees.

Also keep in mind that this year we have added the MSKMUN General Gossip Box near the entrance. Now is your time to share your thoughts with anyone in the conference.

Suggestion by the head of newspaper: Vote if Fictional really exists or not and sign with your committee's name.
